FIRE DESTROYS BARN WITH CROPS AND MACHINERY

Structure On Liberty Township Farm Burns As Neighbors Battle Blaze.

Fire of undetermined origin destroyed the large bank barn on the farm of William Topper, Liberty township, between 9 and 10 o'clock, Sunday evening, entailing a loss estimated at between $4,000 and $5,000.

The fire broke out on the barn floor, and spread rapidly, fanned by a strong northeast gale. No alarm was sent in for any fire company, but more than one hundred neighbors responded to telephone calls, and several bucket brigades fought valiantly under trying weather conditions.

Machinery And Crops Burn
Although all livestock was taken out of the doomed structure, all of the farm machinery, most of this year's hay crop and a silo full of ensilage were consumed.

Fortunately, the wind was blowing away from the Topper home, and the dwelling was never in danger. The same fortunate circumstance saved the corncrib and five stacks of hay in close proximity to the barn.

The origin of the fire is unknown. None of the members of the Topper family were on the main barn floor during the day, it is said, and no lights or fires were in the barn when the fire broke out.

Weather Hinders
Sleet, rain and freezing temperature hampered the work of the volunteer firemen, as they fought the flames for several hours. Members of the Topper family provided hot coffee for the fire fighters, and this stimulated them as they served on the bucket brigades.

Mr. Topper bought the farm about a year ago from the estate of Norman Wolty. The loss is partly covered by insurance.

ELKS GATHER TO HONOR DECEASED

Dr. H. W. A. Hanson Is Speaker at Annual Lodge of Sorrow Held by Local Lodge.

Impressive memorial services for members of the lodge who have died since last December were held at the Majestic theater, Sunday afternoon, by Gettysburg lodge, 1045, Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks. Although there was a large turnout of members, the inclement weather of the afternoon cut down the attendance of the general public.

Dr. Henry W. A. Hanson, president of Gettysburg college, in an inspirational address, said the service was not only a memorial to the dead, but a pledge to the living. He said the world needs faith and courage—faith in the principles which have brought the world to its present high standard of civilization and courage to carry these principles forward, adding new ones as the need arises.

26 Have Died
An impressive feature of the exercises was the roll call of the "absent brothers." Twenty-six members of the lodge have died since its organization in 1905. Four members of the Elks died since last year's memorial service. They are John M. Blocher, C. William Troxell, C. William Beales and Walter D. Reynolds.

Musical numbers included duets by Miss Marie Codori and Charles W. Stock and William Farrer, Littlestown, and Mr. Stock, a solo by Miss Codori and the singing of "Auld Lang Syne" by the lodge members.

Erney L. Myers, exalted ruler, of the lodge, presided. He was assisted in the lodge ritual by H. H. Miller, William F. Weaver, Harry Bumbaugh, Sewell Kapp, John Kimple and C. Tyson Tipton.

The Rev. Father Mark Stock, pastor of St. Francis Xavier Catholic church, gave the invocation and the benediction.

Sunday Storm Gives Many a Chance to Rest

A majority of Adams countians caught up in their sleep when they found the sleet pelting down Sunday morning and the church congregations showed the effects of the storm.

Beginning shortly before dawn the sleet and rain covered the county to a depth of several inches, making any number of children happy with the prospects of skating and sledding, while their elders hitched their chairs closer to the fire and resigned themselves to a day of rest.

The precipitation ranged from 2 to 4 inches throughout the county and with the warm sun of today the sleet changed to a layer of snow and slush which made walking hazardous.

REPORTS OF DEER KILLED FILTER IN FROM CAMPS

11-Point Flat Horn Is Killed Saturday At Taylor Camp Near Pine Grove Furnace.

Three members of the Taylor camp at Pine Grove Furnace each shot a deer on the first three days of the hunting season this year, the largest being an 11 point buck, one of the finest trophies of the hunt which the members of that camp have secured in years.

The big buck fell to George L. Taylor, manager of the Gettysburg-Harrisburg transportation company, Saturday evening and was a flat horn. He got the animal with one shot at 140 yards.

George T. Raffensperger, assistant receiving teller at the Gettysburg National bank, killed an 8-point buck Friday morning, fell on it at 150 yards with a single shot. George Taylor, Jr., manager of the Fashion shop, killed the other buck, a four-point, on the opening day of the present season.

Two large bucks were killed by two McSherrytown men, hunting with the Irving Gun club, near Orrtanna, last week. F. V. Topper bagged an eight-pointer, and Charles Noel secured a six-pointer early on the opening day.

Lester Hertz, of Hanover, shot a four-point buck on Green Ridge, in the South Mountains, on the opening day; and Mervin Baker hunting with the Abbottstown Gun club, and Lloyd Cook, of East Berlin, each got a buck on the opening day.

E. C. Williams, Hanover street, shot a four-pointer on the Vance place, west of Orrtanna, on Saturday.

Two Harrisburg men, guests of Charles Swope, a director of the Gettysburg Flying Service, at his home at Black Gap, each secured a buck on Saturday.

The many visitors expected at the camps which line the South Mountains on Sunday failed to materialize due to the heavy storm which made some of the mountain roads all but impassable. Many of the hunters returned to their homes over the week-end, but with the sleet of Sunday turning into snow today, there was a general trek to the camps again this morning by the hunters who are hoping to get their buck since they can track them easily.

LEGION TO VOTE ON NEW HOME AT MEETING TONIGHT

An important meeting of the Albert J. Lentz post, 202, American Legion, will be held this evening at 7:30 o'clock at the post rooms in the First National bank building. Discussion on the proposed purchase of a home for the legion will feature the meeting.

The legion has taken an option on the Lippy building, Chambersburg street, and members will be asked to approve or disapprove the purchase of the structure at tonight's session.

HOSPITAL REPORT

ONE AUTO CRASH REPORTED DURING STORM ON SUNDAY

Driver Unable To See Road Because Of Ice Forces Other Car Off Road.

Despite the treacherous condition of the highways and the inclement weather only one automobile accident was reported Sunday to the local substation of the state highway motor patrol.

Cars, driven by George Kunard, a student at Gettysburg college, and Lloyd Schenck, of Middletown, collided on the Harrisburg road, five miles north of here, about 5 o'clock, Sunday evening.

Kunard, who was driving an automobile, owned by Jack Monz, another student, was accompanied by J. W. and J. A. Cauffield, brothers, students at Mt. St. Mary's college, Emmitsburg. Kunard was coming toward Gettysburg.

Ice Causes Accident
With Schenck were Benjamin Hickernall, owner of the machine; L. T. Worrell and Miss Sara Springer, all of Middletown. The Middleton party was returning home from a hunting camp in the South Mountains.

According to Patrolman P. M. Royer, who investigated the accident, Schenck got his car to the left side of the highway when sleet froze on his windshield, making visibility poor. Kunard endeavored to get out of the other's way by running off the side of the highway, but was unsuccessful, according to the patrolman.

Schenck suffered a cut on his head, but none of the other occupants of either car was injured. The student's machine had to be towed to a Gettysburg garage, but Schenck was able to drive Hickernall's machine away from the scene under its own power.

$1.80 IS BALANCE OF DEMOCRATS

Party Campaign Conducted With Expenditures of $3,023 and Receipts of $3,025.

The Democratic organization in Adams county came through the November 8 election campaign with a balance of $1.80 in the treasury, according to the statement of receipts and expenses filed by Miss Lily Dougherty, treasurer, in the office of Luther C. Plank, clerk of the courts.

The Democratic campaign was conducted with receipts of $3,025, and expenditures of $3,023. Most of the receipts came from the assessments of the candidates.

The expense account of the Republican organization has not yet been filed. December 8 is the last day for filing individual and organization expense accounts with Mr. Plank.

S. L. Allison, Fairfield, Democratic candidate for probonoitary, spent $511.90 in the campaign, according to his expense account. Wilbur A. Geiselman, Gettysburg, Republican candidate for clerk of the courts, spent $114.51 in his successful campaign.

MOTOR CLUB TO HOLD MEET DEC. 15

Announcements of the annual meeting of the members of the Gettysburg Motor club of Adams county were placed in the mails today by Miss Helen Spangler, secretary. The meeting will be held in the Hotel Gettysburg auditorium, December 15 at 7:30 o'clock.

Directors for the ensuing year will be elected at this meeting and new officers selected. John W. Brehm is president of the club, being elected to the unexpired term of John D. Keith, who resigned a month ago. Other matters of importance to the club and to the national American Automobile association will also be taken up.

SALESMAN TO SPEAK

A. C. Horrook, of Gettysburg, a salesman for a large rubber company, will be the speaker at the weekly luncheon meeting of the Gettysburg Rotary club at the Hoffman hotel this evening at 6 o'clock.

Beginners of the boys' band will practice this evening in the Lincoln school building at seven o'clock and the boys' band will practice Thursday evening at seven o'clock in the Lincoln school building.

News and Comment by THE EDITOR

The financial difficulties of the Tysons, leading fruit growers, is not to be taken as a reflection upon the stability or future success of the fruit growing industry as a whole in Adams county.

Persons familiar with the details of the present troubles of these pioneer fruit growers of the community know for a fact that it was due largely to the losses they suffered in their orchard supply business, which they conducted as a side line to fruit growing, and a combination of circumstances over which the Tysons themselves, or anyone else in Adams county, had little control, that have brought them face to face with a serious financial crisis in which they will lose their private possessions and the results of their years of pioneer effort in putting Adams county in the front rank of commercial apple growing communities in the country.

For the same reason, their financial difficulties cast no shadow upon their honesty, integrity and square dealing. Certain it is that they will "come back" and recoup, in part at any rate, their serious losses, and in their efforts to do that they will receive the helpful assistance of a host of friends throughout the county.

The net profit of the Tysons on their orchards the last three years has been approximately $75,000, which was used largely to satisfy creditors of the orchard supply business on which they suffered a heavy loss during the general slump of the post-war period.

And with little warning, outside capitalists, who had been lending them money between fruit seasons to carry on their various activities, withdrew credit and, with no funds available, they were forced to quit. They had no alternative. That, in substance, is the status of affairs, as given to The Times by close friends of the Tysons who are familiar with their financial affairs individually and jointly as Tyson Brothers, Incorporated.

There is no reason, therefore, why the predicament of the Tysons should be taken as a warning to investors in orchards as a whole in Adams county to feel alarmed. The industry is safe and holds every promise of being more productive in the future than it has been in the past. And to most fruit growers, like the Tysons, the business of growing and marketing apples has been profitable.

Widespread regret concerning the difficulties of the Tysons is expressed in newspapers throughout the state, and trade journals over the country. Chester J. Tyson in particular being generally regarded as one of the most learned men in the industry on questions pertaining to apple culture. An example of these expressions of regret is this article by Gus Steinmetz, editor of The Harrisburg Telegraph, and appearing in his column, "Evening Chat":

"General regret was expressed in Harrisburg when it became known around that the Tyson Brothers, Chester J., William C. and Edwin C., famous apple growers and orchardists, had failed."

"The Tysons are held in high regard by the people of Harrisburg, and indeed by all who know them. They pioneered the apple growing business in the Adams county belt. What they did made their part of the country highly prosperous. The way they pointed was the way to prosperity for many others. But like so many pioneers in other lines they fail while others reap where they sowed."

"The Tysons came to be a tradition" (Continued on Second Page.)

Loses Famous Plane In Hangar Blaze

Word has been received here that J. S. Charles, air pilot, who was winner of third place in the New York-Spokane air derby this fall, had lost his famous specially built Eaglerock plane in a fire which destroyed the hangar at Richmond last Friday.

Charles is a brother of Lieut. Paul Charles, pilot at the local airport, and came here in his famous plane for the circus on October 31. The plane was made especially for Lieutenant Charles, being designed for speed and carrying capacity. It was known as The Esther, in honor of his wife.

HARD SURFACED ROAD TO ASPERS IS IN PROSPECT

Spur From Concrete Highway To Station Is Included In Tentative Program.

A spur from the Mt. Holly Springs highway to Aspers station, a distance of 3450 feet, is included in the tentative list of highways projects for construction next year.

The new concrete road from Tyson's corner to Mt. Holly Springs passes nearly midway between Bendersville and Aspers station, and the highway department plans to give residents of Aspers a hard road outlet to the new concrete highway by building the spur.

The proposed connecting link will be built as a state-aid project and will be of macadam. It is the only project scheduled for this county next year.

Bids Next Month
Bids on this work will be received late next month. Lists of the various projects throughout the state have been sent to some 900 contractors so that they can acquaint themselves with the work to be done.

The department has announced, however, that the lists are subject to change and construction drawings, cross sections and proposals will not be available until the final list is published.

In Franklin county, the department has listed a section of 9566 feet in Warren and Peters townships, and in York county, a section of 7534 feet is listed in Shrewsbury township, Shrewsbury and Railroad boroughs, and 5227 feet in Lower Windsor township and Yorkana borough.

WIDOW TESTIFIES IN OWN DEFENSE

Mrs. Lilliendahl Flatly Denies That Willis Beach Shot Husband; Blames Negroes.

May's Landing, Dec. 5.—(AP)—Sobbing and ringing her hands in a paroxysm of emotion, Mrs. Margaret Lilliendahl told on the stand today her story of how her husband was killed by two negroes.

She flatly denied that the shooting was done by Willis Beach, her friend and co-defendant.

The placing of the widow on the stand was taken as an indication that the defense testimony which began on Friday was nearing a close.

Mrs. Lilliendahl's story of the murder was that it was done by two negroes, after they had attacked her and the aged physician and robbed them.

The children enjoyed the novelty of the cafeteria style immensely as they gathered in groups of twos, fours, sixes and even eights around the tables in the two large rooms in the basement where the cafeteria is located.

"I've just come from the high school where I had lunch at the new cafeteria," said the Reporter to the City Editor.

"How was it?" asked the City Editor.

"Fine," the Reporter answered. "Well, now that you are so well fed, suppose you sit down and tell the rest of the readers about it," continued the C. E.

"I'll do it," the Reporter replied, and this is what he wrote:

The high school's new cafeteria opened for business at 11:55 o'clock this morning, under difficulties, but with weather conditions ideal for swelling the number of students to be fed.

Stove Went Amiss
One of the first obstacles in the way of a successful opening of the cafeteria was the mishap of the kitchen stove to Hagerstown, Maryland. So instead of preparing the food on a regular range, the cooks had to borrow several gas plates.

The second obstacle was the fact that neither the cooks nor the high school authorities knew how many diners to expect on the opening day. It was estimated that between 150 and 160 persons were fed.

Everything moved along smoothly, albeit somewhat slowly as the students got onto the knack of managing their trays that they pushed along the counter where food was displayed. The cafeteria was opened at 11:55 o'clock, and at 12:40 o'clock the last of the patrons had passed the counter.

Mr. Moose is A 'Lucky Dog' In Getting Deer

How a Moose got a deer furnishes the basis of this "bear" of a story.

Albert Moose, who lives at Jack's Mountain Station, set out from his home Saturday afternoon to get a deer. He had failed to bag one on the opening day of the hunting season.

But his sport Saturday afternoon was short-lived. After proceeding less than 150 yards from his home, Mr. Moose spied a nice buck. He fired and the deer dropped dead. It had six points and weighed 150 pounds.

SMITH AND VARE STAND ASIDE AS SENATE BEGINS

Resolution Is Presented When Clerk Calls Roll of Senators-Elect At Opening.

Washington, Dec. 5.—(AP)—The right of William S. Vare, of Pennsylvania, and Frank L. Smith, of Illinois, to sit in the senate was challenged today when they presented themselves to take the oath of office.

Resolutions were presented by Senator Norris, Republican, Nebraska, under which the two would be denied senate places forthwith and without further hearings.

The language used in the resolution as to large expenditures in elections is identical with that in the celebrated resolution under which a senate majority confirmed Truman H. Newbury, of Michigan, in his right to his seat in 1922.

The Nebraska senator presented his resolution regarding Smith when his name was reached in the alphabetical roll call of the new senators. The senator-elect stood at the end of the center aisle facing the vice president while the resolution was read. At the request of Senator Curtis, of Kansas, a Republican leader, Smith stood aside until the other senators-elect could be sworn in.

The same procedure was followed later in the case of Vare.

Senator Curtis then asked unanimous consent that the Smith and Vare cases go over "without prejudice" until tomorrow and that was agreed to.

MARKET AT 7 O'CLOCK

Beginning Tuesday, 'curb market will open at 7 o'clock instead of 6 o'clock, William Young, marketmaster, announced today. The schedule of 7 o'clock opening will be continued throughout the winter.

Well-fed Reporter Gets Enthusiastic Over Meal

The children enjoyed the novelty of the cafeteria style immensely as they gathered in groups of twos, fours, sixes and even eights around the tables in the two large rooms in the basement where the cafeteria is located.

Report One Casualty
There was only one "casualty," which resulted in breakage. The tray slipped from one girl's hands as she shoved it along the counter, and it crashed to the floor, breaking several plates.

"Tell the folks what was on the menu," the City Editor interjected.

"With pleasure, sir," responded the Reporter, writing furiously.

There was a choice of vegetable and tomato soups, creamed cabbage, potato and fruit salads, deviled eggs, pineapple, peaches, pears, bread, rolls, butter, cheese cocoa, milk, ice cream, gelatine and apple sauce.

Highway Employees To Hold Banquet

Employees of the highway department, located in the Hotel Gettysburg annex, with members of the maintenance departments of Gettysburg, York and Chambersburg will be guests at a banquet at Graeffenburg Inn this evening at 7:15 o'clock. The banquet will be in the nature of a farewell affair, preparatory to the removal of the local highway offices to Harrisburg after the first of the year.

WOMAN FAINTS AS HUSBAND IS GIVEN JAIL SENTENCE

Mrs. Charles Hall Collapses When 60 Day Sentence Is Imposed By Judge McPherson.

When a 60 day jail sentence was imposed on Charles Hall, of near Abbottstown, on charges of driving while drunk, his wife who was in court this afternoon collapsed. She was revived with some difficulty by Dr. W. S. Mountain, of New Oxford, who was a spectator in the court room.

Hall pleaded guilty to charges of driving a motor car while under the influence of liquor, for which a fine of $200 and costs and the jail sentence was imposed by Judge D. P. McPherson, who presided. On charges of illegal possession and transportation of liquor a fine of $100 and costs was imposed.

Mrs. Hall collapsed as the jail sentence was imposed and it was some time before she rallied sufficiently to be able to leave the courtroom.

Hall was arrested when the machine he was driving crashed into a bridge abutment during a chase from state motor patrolmen. He was uninjured in the crash but his automobile was damaged.

Current business was transacted before Judge McPherson in court this morning as hearings were held on a number of petitions presented. It is expected that several more sentences will be meted out to offenders before the court adjourns this afternoon.

DEAN TILBERG AND FAMILY MOVE INTO NEW HOME

Dr. and Mrs. W. E. Tilberg and son, Cedric, have moved into one of the houses recently built by S. F. Snyder on West Lincoln avenue. Doctor Tilberg is dean of men at Gettysburg college and with his family has resided at the home of the Misses Kalbfleisch, North Washington street, since coming here from Madison, Wisconsin, early in September.

W. A. SANDERS DIES SATURDAY

Farmer For Many Years Along Gettysburg-Fairfield Road Ill For Week.

William A. Sanders, for many years a farmer, residing along the Gettysburg-Fairfield road, died at the Warner hospital Saturday evening at 10:40 o'clock after an illness of about a week. Mr. Sanders was a life long resident of Cumberland township.

He was admitted to the hospital shortly before 9 o'clock for treatment for a throat ailment.

Surviving are his widow, who before her marriage was Miss Mary Thomas; three sons, John, Charles and Mervin, all of Gettysburg; three brothers, John, Gettysburg; Morris, Conewago chapel, and Commodore, of Bonneauville; three sisters, Mrs. Edward Thomas, Gettysburg; Mrs. Stella Topper, Midway, and Mrs. Harry Tressler, McSherrytown, and three grandchildren.

Funeral services Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock at his late home, the Rev. Earl J. Bowman officiating. Interment in Evergreen cemetery.

Mrs. Sarah Bare
Mrs. Sarah Bare, widow of Josiah Bare, died at her home at Jefferson, York county, Sunday morning at 4 o'clock after a long illness. Death was due to apoplexy, Mrs. Bare having suffered several strokes in recent years. She had been bedfast fifteen weeks, and a week before her death was practically unable to speak or move. She was aged 76 years, six months and 12 days.

Mrs. Bare is survived by the following children of a former marriage: Mrs. Edgar Stauffer, Jefferson; Mrs. Jeremiah Nace, Abbottstown; Mrs. Charles Fuhrman, and Mrs. Daniel Miller, Jefferson, and Lewis Wolfgang, near Brodbeck. A brother, Lewis Werner, Brodbeck, and two sisters, Mrs. George Baugher, of Brodbeck, and Mrs. Abdel Rohrbach, Hanover, also survive. A granddaughter, Mary Wolfgang, lived with the aged woman.

Funeral services from her late home on Wednesday morning at 9:30 o'clock. Concluding services in the Reformed church, Jefferson, and interment will be made in the Jefferson cemetery.

$1.80 IS BALANCE OF DEMOCRATS

Party Campaign Conducted With Expenditures of $3,023 and Receipts of $3,025.

The Democratic organization in Adams county came through the November 8 election campaign with a balance of $1.80 in the treasury, according to the statement of receipts and expenses filed by Miss Lily Dougherty, treasurer, in the office of Luther C. Plank, clerk of the courts.

The Democratic campaign was conducted with receipts of $3,025, and expenditures of $3,023. Most of the receipts came from the assessments of the candidates.

The expense account of the Republican organization has not yet been filed. December 8 is the last day for filing individual and organization expense accounts with Mr. Plank.

S. L. Allison, Fairfield, Democratic candidate for prothonotary, spent $511.90 in the campaign, according to his expense account. Wilbur A. Geiselman, Gettysburg, Republican candidate for clerk of the courts, spent $114.51 in his successful campaign.

MOTOR CLUB TO HOLD MEET DEC. 15

Announcements of the annual meeting of the members of the Gettysburg Motor club of Adams county were placed in the mails today by Miss Helen Spangler, secretary. The meeting will be held in the Hotel Gettysburg auditorium, December 15 at 7:30 o'clock.

Directors for the ensuing year will be elected at this meeting and new officers selected. John W. Brehm is president of the club, being elected to the unexpired term of John D. News and Comment by THE EDITOR

The financial difficulties of the Tysons, leading fruit growers, is not to be taken as a reflection upon the stability or future success of the fruit growing industry as a whole in Adams county.

Persons familiar with the details of the present troubles of these pioneer fruit growers of the community know for a fact that it was due largely to the losses they suffered in their orchard supply business, which they conducted as a side line to fruit growing, and a combination of circumstances over which the Tysons themselves, or anyone else in Adams county, had little control, that have brought them face to face with a serious financial crisis in which they will lose their private possessions and the results of their years of pioneer effort in putting Adams county in the front rank of commercial apple growing communities in the country.

For the same reason, their financial difficulties cast no shadow upon their honesty, integrity and square dealing. Certain it is that they will "come back" and recoup, in part at any rate, their serious losses, and in their efforts to do that they will receive the helpful assistance of a host of friends throughout the county.

The net profit of the Tysons on their orchards the last three years has been approximately $75,000, which was used largely to satisfy creditors of the orchard supply business on which they suffered a heavy loss during the general slump of the post-war period. And with little warning, outside capitalists, who had been lending them money between fruit seasons to carry on their various activities, withdrew credit and, with no funds available, they were forced to quit. They had no alternative. That, in substance, is the status of affairs, as given to The Times by close friends of the Tysons who are familiar with their financial affairs individually and jointly as Tyson Brothers, Incorporated.

There is no reason, therefore, why the predicament of the Tysons should be taken as a warning to investors in orchards as a whole in Adams county to feel alarmed. The industry is safe and holds every promise of being more productive in the future than it has been in the past. And to most fruit growers, like the Tysons, the business of growing and marketing apples has been profitable.

Widespread regret concerning the difficulties of the Tysons is expressed in newspapers throughout the state, and trade journals over the country. Chester J. Tyson in particular being generally regarded as one of the most learned men in the industry on questions pertaining to apple culture. An example of these expressions of regret is this article by Gus Steinmetz, editor of The Harrisburg Telegraph, and appearing in his column, "Evening Chat":

"General regret was expressed in Harrisburg when it became known around that the Tyson Brothers, Chester J., William C. and Edwin C., famous apple growers and orchardists, had failed."

"The Tysons are held in high regard by the people of Harrisburg, and indeed by all who know them. They pioneered the apple growing business in the Adams county belt. What they did made their part of the country highly prosperous. The way they pointed was the way to prosperity for many others. But like so many pioneers in other lines they fail while others reap where they sowed."

"The Tysons came to be a tradition." (Continued on Second Page.)

Loses Famous Plane In Hangar Blaze

Word has been received here that J. S. Charles, air pilot, who was winner of third place in the New York-Spokane air derby this fall, had lost his famous specially built Eaglerock plane in a fire which destroyed the hangar at Richmond last Friday.

Charles is a brother of Lieut. Paul Charles, pilot at the local airport, and came here in his famous plane for the circus on October 31. The plane was made especially for Lieutenant Charles, being designed for speed and carrying capacity. It was known as The Esther, in honor of his wife.

HARD SURFACED ROAD TO ASPERS IS IN PROSPECT

Spur From Concrete Highway To Station Is Included In Tentative Program.

A spur from the Mt. Holly Springs highway to Aspers station, a distance of 3450 feet, is included in the tentative list of highways projects for construction next year.

The new concrete road from Tyson's corner to Mt. Holly Springs passes nearly midway between Benderville and Aspers station, and the highway department plans to give residents of Aspers a hard road outlet to the new concrete highway by building the spur.

The proposed connecting link will be built as a state-aid project and will be of macadam. It is the only project scheduled for this county next year.

Bids Next Month

Bids on this work will be received late next month. Lists of the various projects throughout the state have been sent to some 900 contractors so that they can acquaint themselves with the work to be done.

The department has announced, however, that the lists are subject to change and construction drawings, cross sections and proposals will not be available until the final list is published.

In Franklin county, the department has listed a section of 9566 feet in Warren and Peters townships, and in York county, a section of 7534 feet is listed in Shrewsbury township, Shrewsbury and Railroad boroughs, and 5227 feet in Lower Windsor township and Yorkana borough.

WIDOW TESTIFIES IN OWN DEFENSE

Mrs. Lilliendahl Flatly Denies That Willis Beach Shot Husband; Blames Negroes.

May's Landing, Dec. 5.—(AP)—Sobbing and ringing her hands in a paroxysm of emotion, Mrs. Margaret Lilliendahl told on the stand today her story of how her husband was killed by two negroes.

She flatly denied that the shooting was done by Willis Beach, her friend and co-defendant.

The placing of the widow on the stand was taken as an indication that the defense testimony which began on Friday was nearing a close.

Mrs. Lilliendahl's story of the murder was that it was done by two negroes, after they had attacked her and the aged physician and robbed them.

The children enjoyed the novelty of the cafeteria style immensely as they gathered in groups of twos, fours, sixes and even eights around the tables in the two large rooms in the basement where the cafeteria is located.

"How was it?" asked the City Editor.

"Fine," the Reporter answered.

"Well, now that you are so well fed, suppose you sit down and tell the rest of the readers about it," continued the C. E.

"I'll do it," the Reporter replied, and this is what he wrote:

The high school's new cafeteria opened for business at 11:55 o'clock this morning, under difficulties, but with weather conditions ideal for swelling the number of students to be fed.

Stove Went Amiss

One of the first obstacles in the way of a successful opening of the cafeteria was the misshipment of the kitchen stove to Hagerstown, Maryland. So instead of preparing the food on a regular range, the cooks had to borrow several gas plates.

The second obstacle was the fact that neither the cooks nor the high school authorities knew how many diners to expect on the opening day. It was estimated that between 150 and 160 persons were fed.

Everything moved along smoothly, albeit somewhat slowly as the students got onto the knack of managing their trays that they pushed along the counter where food was displayed. The cafeteria was opened at 11:55 o'clock, and at 12:40 o'clock the last of the patrons had passed the counter.

Mr. Moose is A 'Lucky Dog' In Getting Deer

How a Moose got a deer furnishes the basis of this "bear" of a story.

Albert Moose, who lives at Jack's Mountain Station, set out from his home Saturday afternoon to get a deer. He had failed to bag one on the opening day of the hunting season.

But his sport Saturday afternoon was short-lived. After proceeding less than 150 yards from his home, Mr. Moose spied a nice buck. He fired and the deer dropped dead. It had six points and weighed 150 pounds.

SMITH AND VARE STAND ASIDE AS SENATE BEGINS

Resolution Is Presented When Clerk Calls Roll Of Senators-Elect At Opening.

Washington, Dec. 5.—(AP)—The right of William S. Vare, of Pennsylvania, and Frank L. Smith, of Illinois, to sit in the senate was challenged today when they presented themselves to take the oath of office.

Resolutions were presented by Senator Norris, Republican, Nebraska, under which the two would be denied senate places forthwith and without further hearings.

The language used in the resolution is identical with that in the celebrated resolution under which a senate majority confirmed Truman H. Newbury, of Michigan, in his right to his seat in 1922.

The Nebraska senator presented his resolution regarding Smith when his name was reached in the alphabetical roll call of the new senators. The senator-elect stood at the end of the center aisle facing the vice president while the resolution was read. At the request of Senator Curtis, of Kansas, a Republican leader, Smith stood aside until the other senators-elect could be sworn in.

The same procedure was followed later in the case of Vare.

Senator Curtis then asked unanimous consent that the Smith and Vare cases go over "without prejudice" until tomorrow and that was agreed to.

MARKET AT 7 O'CLOCK

Beginning Tuesday, 'curb' market will open at 7 o'clock instead of 6 o'clock, William Young, market-master, announced today. The schedule of 7 o'clock opening will be continued throughout the winter.

The children enjoyed the novelty of the cafeteria style immensely as they gathered in groups of twos, fours, sixes and even eights around the tables in the two large rooms in the basement where the cafeteria is located.

Report One Casualty
There was only one "casualty," which resulted in breakage. The tray slipped from one girl's hands as she shoved it along the counter, and it crashed to the floor, breaking several plates.

"Tell the folks what was on the menu," the City Editor interjected.

"With pleasure, sir," responded the Reporter, writing furiously.

There was a choice of vegetable and tomato soups, creamed cabbage, potato and fruit salads, deviled eggs, pineapple, peaches, pears, bread rolls, butter, cheese cocoa, milk, ice cream, gelatine and apple sauce.

Highway Employees To Hold Banquet

Employees of the highway department, located in the Hotel Gettysburg annex, with members of the maintenance departments of Gettysburg, York and Chambersburg will be guests at a banquet at Graeffenburg Inn this evening at 7:15 o'clock. The banquet will be in the nature of a farewell affair, preparatory to the removal of the local highway offices to Harrisburg after the first of the year.

WOMAN FAINTS AS HUSBAND IS GIVEN JAIL SENTENCE

Mrs. Charles Hall Collapses When 60 Day Sentence Is Imposed By Judge McPherson.

When a 60 day jail sentence was imposed on Charles Hall, of near Abbottstown, on charges of driving while drunk, his wife who was in court this afternoon collapsed. She was revived with some difficulty by Dr. W. S. Mountain, of New Oxford, who was a spectator in the court room.

Hall pleaded guilty to charges of driving a motor car while under the influence of liquor, for which a fine of $200 and costs and the jail sentence was imposed by Judge D. P. McPherson, who presided. On charges of illegal possession and transportation of liquor a fine of $100 and costs was imposed.

Mrs. Hall collapsed as the jail sentence was imposed and it was some time before she rallied sufficiently to be able to leave the courtroom.

Hall was arrested when the machine he was driving crashed into a bridge abutment during a chase from state motor patrolmen. He was uninjured in the crash but his automobile was damaged.

Current business was transacted before Judge McPherson in court this morning as hearings were held on a number of petitions presented. It is expected that several more sentences will be meted out to offenders who had entered pleas of guilty before the court adjourns this afternoon.

Singley's Team Downs Bellefonte

State College, Dec. 5.—Mount Carmel high school won the Pennsylvania Interscholastic Athletic association's football championship on a snow-covered field Saturday, the Eastern conference winners downs Bellefonte, the choice of the Western conference, 7 to 6. A trick pass for the point after touchdown proved the margin of victory.

Evenly matched, with each team featuring six first downs, the coal region champions took advantage of Bellefonte's fumble after the opening kickoff to tally their touchdown. Bellefonte appeared stage struck during the opening quarter but in the second period the Bream coached boys opened up and from then on held the upper hand.

Both teams are coached by former Gettysburg college stars. Junie Bream, in his first year as mentor at Bellefonte high, piloted the school to the runnerup title, while this is Ray Singley's second year as coach at Mount Carmel.

Walter McCollough Buried Saturday

Funeral services for Walter McCollough, a former resident of Gettysburg, who died in Harrisburg early Wednesday morning, were held at the home of his mother, Mrs. Sarah McCollough, East Middle street, Saturday afternoon, the Rev. N. L. Horn officiating. Interment was in Evergreen cemetery.

The Elks lodge, of Carlisle, of which Mr. McCollough was a member, conducted services at the home and at the grave, and also furnished pallbearers. The pallbearers were B. A. Klepper, John Pagan, William Gilbert, C. D. Lundinuth, J. E. Emstine and Charles Biddle, all of Carlisle.

SINCLAIR, BURNS CASE IS OPENED

Washington, Dec. 6.—(AP)—Haled before the District of Columbia supreme court today on charges of contempt, Harry F. Sinclair, William J. Burns and their associates insisted they were well within the law in having the jury in the Fall-Sinclair case placed under surveillance.

Henry Nathan Day, an official in one of Sinclair's oil companies, said he hired the Burns men to shadow the jury at Sinclair's request, explaining that the oil man believed an improper effort would be made to have the jury return a verdict against Sinclair. The oil man asked that the case be dismissed for lack of jurisdiction.

PAUL WANER GETS BEST PLAYER VOTE

Paul Waner, a member of the "million-dollar outfield" of the Pittsburgh pirates, who is a frequent visitor with Howard Muntger, manager of the Hoffman hotel, has been selected as the most valuable player in the major leagues and receives the $1000 award and medal, the emoluments of this honor. Waner and Clyde Barnhart were recent guests of Mr. Mitence on a duck hunt along the Gunpowder river, in Maryland.

Well Fed Reporter

"Certainly not," the Reporter answered, somewhat indignantly. "Don't you know meat is hard to digest when the eater is not exercising? Meat will only be served at the new cafeteria if there is a demand for it on the part of the students."

After the pupils had selected their food, they passed in front of Guile Lefever, principal of the high school, and Lloyd C. Keefe, supervising principal of the public schools, who acted as cashiers.

Mrs. Minnie Graby, who is in charge of the new cafeteria, has as her assistant Mrs. John Fleschman, wife of the high school caretaker. Mrs. George Black, wife of one of the members of the school board, helped in the kitchen this morning, and A. B. Plank and Mahlon Hartzell, two school directors, were among those who were on hand for the opening of the cafeteria.

Steak From Prize Beef To Coolidge

Chicago, Dec. 5.—(AP)—President and Mrs. Coolidge probably will dine on royal beef steak during the Christmas holidays.

The new Bismarck hotel of Chicago, purchasers of California Stamp, grand champion steer at the international livestock exposition which closed Saturday, plans to send the president the choicest cut of steak from the champion. It is to arrive at the White House in time for Christmas menus.

The animal, bred and grown by the University of California, sold on the hoof for $2.35 a pound.

Philadelphia, Dec. 5.—(AP)—The Pennsylvania supreme court today upheld the common pleas court of York county in affirming the right of the York municipal authorities in passing a Sunday amusement ordinance.

FIGHT BREWING IN SENATE AS CONGRESS OPENS

Organization Of Upper House And Prospects Of Vane-Smith Battle May Cause Trouble.

Washington, Dec. 6.—(AP)—After a morning of maneuvering it appeared likely when the Senate met today that the efforts to form a Democratic-Republican insurgent coalition would collapse and that the Republican organization would elect its slate of officers in the Senate.

The best the insurgents could get from the Republican leaders was a promise that their legislation demands would be laid before a Republican conference leader, but the little group was having trouble agreeing within itself whether to cast its lot with the Republicans or the Democrats.

Vice President Dawes rapped for order at the Senate exactly at noon. As usual the functions of opening the house session fell to William Cuvier Page, the House clerk, who presided pending the election of a speaker.

The members of both houses bowed their heads as the chaplain offered the opening invocation. Immediately afterward in the House the roll call of states was read, a ceremony occupying a half hour.

Two elements of the senate situation—organization and the Smith and Vane seating contest—were uppermost among the worries besetting Republican leaders as the rear guard of the members of both houses arrived.

A single vote marks the difference between the majority and minority parties, and consequently the Democrats would have to gain only a few votes from the Republican side to put through their slate, even allowing for a few defections now expected from their own ranks.

Moses For Pro Tem. Job

Senator Moses, New Hampshire, has been renominated by the Republicans as president pro tempore, and the Democrats have named Senator Pittman, Nevada, for that office. The Republicans have no candidates for senate secretary and sergeant-at-arms, holding that those officers hold over, but if the Democrats see opportunity to capture them they will press for an election.

By filling these three senate offices the Democrats would control appointments in the offices of the secretary and sergeant at arms, including all senate capital police, doorkeepers and the like. Each Democratic senator would have $4,200 in patronage to dispense annually.

The Republican independents have not yet disclosed whether they will swing over to the Democrats in any appreciable number in the absence of assurances demanded of the Republican membership that opportunities shall be afforded for early votes on farm relief, a bill to curb the federal courts in issuing injunctions in labor disputes and a resolution proposing investigation of the American policy in Latin America.

A hybrid organization, with the Democrats controlling the senate offices and the patronage that goes with them, and the Republicans in command of the standing committees that will deal with legislative matters, was one of the possibilities.

Vane-Smith Row Due

Another was an immediate outbreak of the fight against administering the oath to Senators-elect Frank I. Smith, Illinois, and William S. Vare, Pennsylvania, both Republicans. This the Republican leaders hope to prevent until after the senate has been organized and President Coolidge has submitted his annual messages dealing with legislative problems and the budget.

If the majority leaders can ward off these probable outbreaks, the first day's procedure in the senate will be about as tame as that in the house, where Nicholas Longworth, Ohio, will be reelected speaker over Finis J. Garrett, Tennessee, leader of the Democrats.

STOCK REPORT

New York, Dec. 5.—(AP)—Prices moved irregularly higher at the opening of today's stock market. Several of the oils were heavy and there was much selling of particular stocks where distribution had been presumed affected, but many of the shares whose course ordinarily determines the market's trend displayed substantial strength. There was scattered buying of the railroads.

CONGRESS SEAT CONTESTED

Washington, Dec. 6.—(AP)—The right of J. presentative-elect James M. Beck, of Philadelphia, to seat in the House will be contested by Democrats on the ground that he is not a legal resident of that city.

(Continued from Page One), tion in the South Mountain region. They were looked up to by their neighbors. They lived in fine, but simple style in spacious houses that fronted on their magnificent orchards and they occupied much the same position in their communities that the Iron Masters of Pennsylvania did in their day.

"Their fame spread. Governors on tour stopped at their homes. Distinguished agriculturists paid them the complement of frequent visits. They were at once the admiration and the envy of the whole countryside. It seems too bad that men who have done so much to put Pennsylvania on the map as an apple-growing state should have labored so long to be rewarded only with financial difficulties that may take from them their last hard-earned penny."

Also, E. J. Stackpole, publisher of The Telegraph, in his personal column, "Watching the Game," has this to say:

"All of us who know the Tysons and who have looked to their fine Adams county orchards for the winter's supply of the Stayman Winesaps and other fine apples for years are full of regret over the financial difficulties of the brothers. They have done so much for fruit growing as an industry and the development of widespread interest in the apple—which we are told 'one day keeps the doctor away'—that general sympathy goes out to these fine men in their serious trouble. Pennsylvania owes the Tysons a lot and their friends are hopeful that some way out of their present difficulties may be found. This writer has watched with interest the expansion of the Adams county fruit belt and none has done more in this direction than the Tyson family."

Woman Makes Unusual Record

Duncannon.—Mrs. W. T. Crow, of Hunter's Valley, husked forty-five bushels of corn one day last week and forty-one bushels the following day. Mrs. Crow was trying to establish a record in shocking the golden ear. She did the morning chores about the farm and arrived in the field rather late and quit work at 4:30 o'clock in the afternoon, in addition to doing all her routine housework.

It would be interesting to learn who the champion corn husking woman is in Adams county.

George Mitchell, Centie Square restaurant owner, sees a suggestion for the Gettysburg branch of the Metropolitan Edison company in the following news dispatch from Phoenixville:

More Light in Phoenixville
Phoenixville, Pa., Nov. 10.—Announcement was made here today that the Philadelphia Suburban Counties Gas & Electric Company will erect ornamental light pedestals in the business section of the town at no expense to the borough, save for the annual cost of electricity. Work is scheduled to begin December 1 and be completed before the first of the year.

John W. Brehm, W. H. Tipton and other public spirited citizens are of the opinion that the electric light company could make an offer of a similar gift to Gettysburg with little hope of it being accepted as long as Town Council retains a majority of those who rejected a similar gift from the business people a couple years ago, thereby forestalling the hope of the majority of community residents of seeing the light of progress and advancement.

Squire S. S. W. Hammers, author of numerous religious tracts which have been given wide circulation over the country, found a critic in the "letters to the editor" column of the Sunday Philadelphia Record. The letter of criticism reads as follows:

Deems Hell a Myth

Permit me to reply to S. S. W. H., of Gettysburg, who laments the fact that having lived some three score and 10, he at last hears a preacher doubt the literal version of Hell consisting of fire and brimstone as a place of punishment for the so-called wicked.

Why lose hope? Is his Christianity founded on fire and brimstone? Does he do good because he fears to do otherwise? Could he really be happy if he was sure that even one soul he may have known is suffering untold agony forever?

I am inclined to think that S. S. W. H. belongs to the same line of religious thought that brought about the crucifixion of Jesus of Nazareth, murdered Galileo and persecuted Columbus because they threw off the bonds of superstition and tradition. We do not believe Joshua threw the whole solar system out of gear in order to prolong daylight so that he could see better to kill all the men, women and children of a certain city.

THRILLING SCENES MARK RESCUE OF 36 FROM STEAMER

Four Washed To Death As Ship Grounds; 24 Are Towed 2 Miles Through Surf.

Norfolk, Va., Dec. 5.—(AP)—Twenty-four men were rescued from the Norwegian steamer, Cibao, ashore off Cape Hatteras Sunday, by lifesavers under dramatic circumstances, while twelve men were saved from the Greek steamer Paraguay which stranded north of Kitty Hawk, North Carolina. Four men of the Paraguay crew were washed overboard during the night and lost.

In order to effect the rescue of the crew of the Cibao it was found necessary to get the men to tie ropes round themselves, throw the ends of the ropes overboard to the motorboats of the Coast Guard and then jump into a boiling sea to be towed more than two miles to shore.

The Paraguay went ashore shortly before daybreak Sunday morning while half a dozen vessels were searching for her in response to repeated calls for help. Among them were the American steamers City of Atlanta and Harvester and the British freighter Baron Herries.

Coast guardsmen, with the aid of glasses, could see the crew of the vessel clinging to the rigging to avoid the heavy seas that were breaking over the craft.

Boat Launched

Despite the fact that a gale was blowing and breakers were rolling high on the beach lifesavers from the Kitty Hawk station managed to launch a lifeboat and set out for the wreck. Several attempts were made before the boat could get close enough to the ship to take off the half-dead men, only twelve of whom were left out of a crew of sixteen with which the tanker left Baltimore several days ago.

The skipper, who was among the rescued, said four men were washed overboard during the night. They were working at the pumps in an effort to keep the ship afloat until some of the rescuing vessels arrived and were carried over the side by a wave that swept the ship. The Paraguay, when she went ashore, was half filled with water that had long before extinguished her boiler room fires and rendered useless her radio apparatus. She will be a total loss, it is said.

Rescue Is Thrilling

The rescue of the twenty-four men from the steamer Cibao ranks as one of the most thrilling in the history of the North Carolina Coast Guard stations. Life savers had made several attempts to reach the ship in motor boats, but each time their small craft was hurled against the side of the vessel with such force that they were in danger of being smashed to pieces. The Cibao also was fast breaking up under the force of the mountainous seas that were pounding against her and her crew were facing momentary death.

Finally, by means of signals, the men on the Cibao were instructed to tie ropes around their bodies and to throw one end of the ropes over the side. These were made fast to the motor boats and the crew on the Cibao jumped into the boiling sea one by one.

They were towed ashore in this manner, a distance of about three miles. All were landed safely at Cape Hatteras, although half a dozen of them were unconscious when they were taken out of the surf. All were revived, however, by first-aid treatment administered by their rescuers.

NEW CAST TO BE SEEN IN COMEDY

The cast selected from the Gettysburg Dramatic club which will present the farce comedy, "Meet the Wife," at the Majestic theatre, Wednesday evening for the benefit of the fire company will be an entirely new combination of local talent. The play will begin at 8:15 o'clock. Dr. Richard A. Arms is director of the company.

Mrs. H. M. Capper, who has appeared in a number of minor roles in past dramatic club performances, will play the difficult leading role in this production. Miss Madolyn Culp and Miss Ellen Tipton who have done creditable work in other plays given by the club and William G. Weaver are the town residents who will play supporting roles and in addition to these the remainder of the cast are, with the exception of Prof. Ernest Heisenbattell, college and seminary students. They are Charles Brower, Oliver Heil and Hammon Zinn.

Singley's Team

Downs Bellefonte

State College, Dec. 5.—Mount Carmel high school won the Pennsylvania Interscholastic Athletic association's football championship on a snow-covered field Saturday, the Eastern conference winners downing Bellefonte, the choice of the Western conference, 7 to 6. A trick pass for the point after touchdown proved the margin of victory.

Evenly matched, with each team featuring six first downs, the coal region champions took advantage of Bellefonte's fumble after the opening kickoff to tally their touchdown. Bellefonte appeared stage struck during the opening quarter but in the second period the Bream coached boys opened up and from then on held the upper hand.

Both teams are coached by former Gettysburg college stars. Junie Bream, in his first year as mentor at Bellefonte high, piloted the school to the runnerup title, while this is Ray Singley's second year as coach at Mount Carmel.

Walter McCollough Buried Saturday

Funeral services for Walter McCollough, a former resident of Gettysburg, who died in Harrisburg early Wednesday morning, were held at the home of his mother, Mrs. Sarah McCollough, East Middle street, Saturday afternoon, the Rev. N. L. Horn officiating. Interment was in Evergreen cemetery.

The Elks lodge, of Carlisle, of which Mr. McCollough was a member, conducted services at the home and at the grave, and also furnished pallbearers. The pallbearers were B. A. Klepper, John Fagan, William J. Gilbert, C. D. Lindemuth, J. E. Einstine and Charles Biddle, all of Carlisle.

SINCLAIR, BURNS CASE IS OPENED

Washington, Dec. 6.—(AP)—Haled before the District of Columbia supreme court today on charges of contempt, Harry F. Sinclair, William J. Burns and their associates insisted they were well within the law in having the jury in the Fall-Sinclair case placed under surveillance.

Henry Nathan Day, an official in one of Sinclair's oil companies, said he hired the Burns men to shadow the jury at Sinclair's request, explaining that the oil man believed an improper effort would be made to have the jury return a verdict against Sinclair. The oil man asked that the case be dismissed for lack of jurisdiction.

Steak From Prize Beef To Coolidge

Chicago, Dec. 5.—(AP)—President and Mrs. Coolidge probably will dine on royal beef steak during the Christmas holidays.

The new Bismarck hotel of Chicago, purchasers of California Stamp, grand champion steer at the international livestock exposition which closed Saturday, plans to send the president the choicest cut of steak from the champion. It is to arrive at the White House in time for Christmas menus.

The animal, bred and grown by the University of California, sold on the hoof for $235 a pound.

FIGHT BREWING IN SENATE AS CONGRESS OPENS

Organization Of Upper House And Prospects Of Vare-Smith Battle May Cause Trouble.

Washington, Dec. 6.—(AP)—After a morning of maneuvering it appeared likely when the Senate met today that the efforts to form a Democratic-Republican insurgent coalition would collapse and that the Republican organization would elect its slate of officers in the Senate.

The best the insurgents could get from the Republican leaders was a promise that their legislation demands would be laid before a Republican conference leader, but the little group was having trouble agreeing within itself whether to cast its lot with the Republicans or the Democrats.

Vice President Dawes rapped for order at the Senate exactly at noon. As usual the functions of opening the house session fell to William Cuyler Page, the House clerk, who presided pending the election of a speaker.

The members of both houses bowed their heads as the chaplain offered the opening invocation. Immediately afterward in the House the roll call of states was read, a ceremony occupying a half hour.

Two elements of the senate situation—organization and the Smith and Vare seating contests—were uppermost among the worries besetting Republican leaders as the rear guard of the members of both houses arrived.

A single vote marks the difference between the majority and minority parties, and consequently the Democrats would have to gain only a few votes from the Republican side to put through their slate, even allowing for a few defections now expected from their own ranks.

Moses For Pro Tem. Job

Senator Moses, New Hampshire, has been renominated by the Republicans as president pro tempore, and the Democrats have named Senator Pittman, Nevada, for that office. The Republicans have no candidates for senate secretary and sergeant-at-arms, holding that those officers hold over, but if the Democrats see opportunity to capture them they will press for an election.

By filling these three senate offices the Democrats would control appointments in the offices of the secretary and sergeant at arms, including all senate capitol police, doorkeepers and the like. Each Democratic senator would have $4,200 in patronage to dispense annually.

The Republican independents have not yet disclosed whether they will swing over to the Democrats in any appreciable number in the absence of assurances demanded of the Republican membership that opportunities shall be afforded for early votes on farm relief, a bill to curb the federal courts in issuing injunctions in labor disputes and a resolution proposing investigation of the American policy in Latin-America.

A hybrid organization, with the Democrats controlling the senate offices and the patronage that goes with them, and the Republicans in command of the standing committees that will deal with legislative matters, was one of the possibilities.

Vare-Smith Row Due

Another was an immediate outbreak of the fight against administering the oath to Senators-elect Frank L. Smith, Illinois, and William S. Vare, Pennsylvania, both Republicans. This the Republican leaders hope to prevent until after the senate has been organized and President Coolidge has submitted his annual messages dealing with legislative problems and the budget.

If the majority leaders can ward off these probable outbreaks, the first day's procedure in the senate will be about as tame as that in the house, where Nicholas Longworth, Ohio, will be reelected speaker over Finis J. Garrett, Tennessee, leader of the Democrats.

STOCK REPORT

New York, Dec. 5.—(AP)—Prices moved irregularly higher at the opening of today's stock market. Several of the oils were heavy and there was much selling of particular stocks where distribution had been presumably effected, but many of the shares whose course ordinarily determines the market's trend displayed substantial strength. There was scattered buying of the railroads.

CONGRESS SEAT CONTESTED

Washington, Dec. 6.—(AP)—The right of Representative-elect James M. Beck, of Philadelphia, to seat in the House will be contested by Democrats on the ground that he is not a legal resident of that city.

(Continued from Page One) tion in the South Mountain region. They were looked up to by their neighbors. They lived in fine but simple style in spacious houses that fronted on their magnificent orchards and they occupied much the same position in their communities that the Iron Masters of Pennsylvania did in their day.

"Their fame spread. Governors on tour stopped at their homes. Distinguished agriculturists paid them the compliment of frequent visits. They were at once the admiration and the envy of the whole countryside. It seems too bad that men who have done so much to put Pennsylvania on the map as an apple-growing state should have labored so long to be rewarded only with financial difficulties that may take from them their last hard-earned penny."

Also, E. J. Stackpole, publisher of The Telegraph, in his personal column, "Watching the Game," has this to say:

"All of us who know the Tysons and who have looked to their fine Adams county orchards for the winter's supply of the Stayman Winesaps and other fine apples for years are full of regret over the financial difficulties of the brothers. They have done so much for fruit growing as an industry and the development of widespread interest in the apple—which we are told 'one day keeps the doctor away'—that general sympathy goes out to these fine men in their serious trouble. Pennsylvania owes the Tysons a lot and their friends are hopeful that some way out of their present difficulties may be found. This writer has watched with interest the expansion of the Adams county fruit belt and none has done more in this direction than the Tyson family."

Woman Makes Unusual Record
Duncannon.—Mrs. W. T. Crow, of Hunter's Valley, husked forty-five bushels of corn one day last week and forty-one bushels the following day. Mrs. Crow was trying to establish a record in shocking the golden ear. She did the morning chores about the farm and arrived in the field rather late and quit work at 4:30 o'clock in the afternoon, in addition to doing all her routine housework.

It would be interesting to learn who the champion corn husking woman is in Adams county.

George Mitchell, Centre Square restaurant owner, sees a suggestion for the Gettysburg branch of the Metropolitan Edison company in the following news dispatch from Phoenixville:

More Light in Phoenixville
Phoenixville, Pa., Nov. 10.—Announcement was made here today that the Philadelphia Suburban Counties Gas & Electric Company will erect ornamental light pedestals in the business section of the town at no expense to the borough, save for the annual cost of electricity. Work is scheduled to begin December 1 and be completed before the first of the year.

John W. Brehm, W. H. Tipton and other public spirited citizens are of the opinion that the electric light company could make an offer of a similar gift to Gettysburg with little hope of it being accepted as long as Town Council retains a majority of those who have rejected a similar gift from the business people a couple years ago, thereby forestalling the hope of the majority of community residents of seeing the light of progress and advancement.

Squire S. S. W. Hammers, author of numerous religious tracts which have been given wide circulation over the country, found a critic in the "letters to the editor" column of the Sunday Philadelphia Record. The letter of criticism reads as follows:

Deems Hell a Myth
Editor of The Record:—Permit me to reply to S. S. W. H. of Gettysburg, who laments the fact that having lived some three score and 10, he at last hears a preacher doubt the literal version of Hell consisting of fire and brimstone as a place of punishment for the so-called wicked. Why lose hope? Is his Christianity founded on fire and brimstone? Does he do good because he fears to do otherwise? Could he really be happy if he was sure that even one soul he may have known is suffering untold agony forever?

I am inclined to think that S. S. W. H. belongs to the same line of religious thought that brought about the crucifixion of Jesus of Nazareth, murdered Galileo and persecuted Columbus because they threw off the bonds of superstition and tradition. We do not believe Joshua threw the whole solar system out of gear in order to prolong daylight so that he could see better to kill all the men, women and children of a certain city.

THRILLING SCENES MARK RESCUE OF 36 FROM STEAMER

Four Washed To Death As Ship Grounds; 24 Are Towed 2 Miles Through Surf.

Norfolk, Va., Dec. 5.—(AP)—Twenty-four men were rescued from the Norwegian steamer, Cibao, ashore off Cape Hatteras Sunday, by lifesavers under dramatic circumstances, while twelve men were saved from the Greek steamer Paraguay which stranded north of Kitty Hawk, North Carolina. Four men of the Paraguay crew were washed overboard during the night and lost.

In order to effect the rescue of the crew of the Cibao it was found necessary to get the men to tie ropes round themselves, throw the ends of the ropes overboard to the motorboats of the Coast Guard and then jump into a boiling sea to be towed more than two miles to shore.

The Paraguay went ashore shortly before daybreak Sunday morning while half a dozen vessels were searching for her in response to repeated calls for help. Among them were the American steamers City of Atlanta and Harvester and the British freighter Baron Herries.

Coast guardsmen, with the aid of glasses, could see the crew of the vessel clinging to the rigging to avoid the heavy seas that were breaking over the craft.

Boat Launched

Despite the fact that a gale was blowing and breakers were rolling high on the beach lifesavers from the Kitty Hawk station managed to launch a lifeboat and set out for the wreck. Several attempts were made before the boat could get close enough to the ship to take off the half dead men, only twelve of whom were left out of a crew of sixteen with which the tanker left Baltimore several days ago.

The skipper, who was among the rescued, said four men were washed overboard during the night. They were working at the pumps in an effort to keep the ship afloat until some of the rescuing vessels arrived and were carried over the side by a wave that swept the ship. The Paraguay, when she went ashore, was half filled with water that had long before extinguished her boiler room fires and rendered useless her radio apparatus. She will be a total loss, it is said.

Rescue Is Thrilling

The rescue of the twenty-four men from the steamer Cibao ranks as one of the most thrilling in the history of the North Carolina Coast Guard stations. Life savers had made several attempts to reach the ship in motor boats, but each time their small craft was hurled against the side of the vessel with such force that they were in danger of being smashed to pieces. THE new Ford car has been on the market only a few days, but it has already created unusual interest throughout the country. Millions of people got the full details of it last week for the first time and were delighted with the story of its beauty, speed, comfort, safety and low price.

All day long and far into the night, great crowds gathered in hundreds of Ford salesrooms from Maine to Florida and from New York to San Francisco. Never has such interest been shown in a new car. Never has any new car so far exceeded expectations.

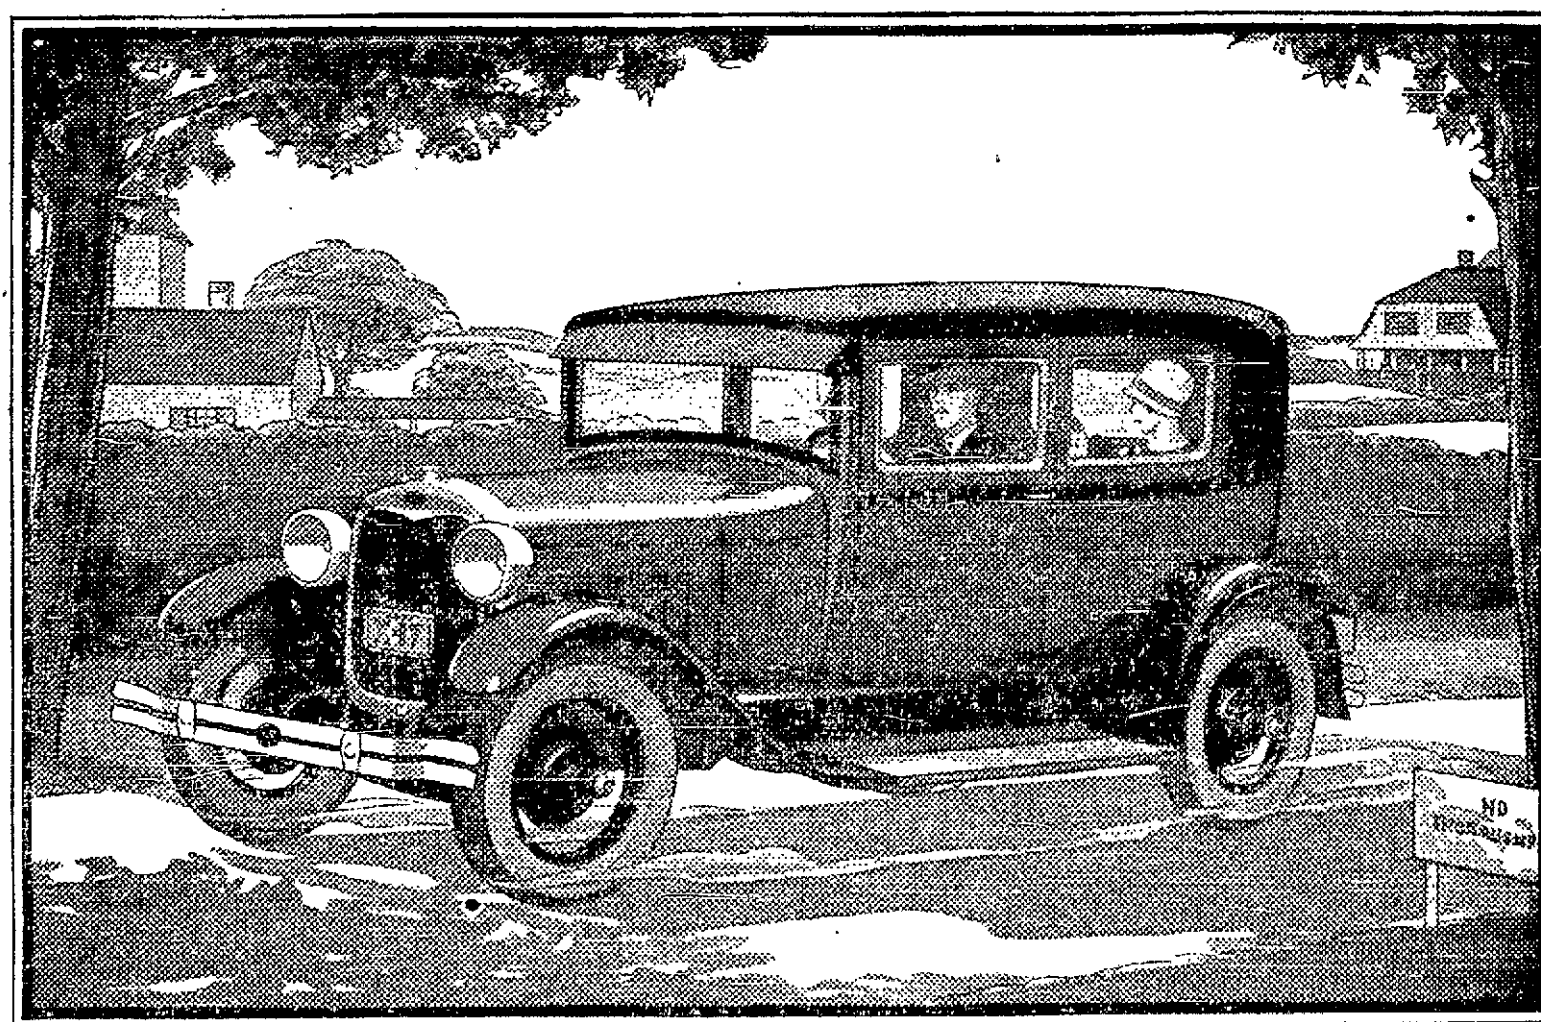

People knew that Ford was making a new car. They knew it was a good car. They had read announcements about it. But they had no idea it would be a car like this. Their quick appreciation of it is shown by the record-breaking sales.

Greatest day in the history of the automobile industry

Thousands upon thousands of orders for the new Ford car have been received since last Friday. These, and the advance orders placed with us by motorists even before the car was officially announced, will keep the entire Ford plant working day and night for weeks to come.

Such figures are a clear and unmistakable reflection of the value that has been built into the new Ford car. It is, without question, the outstanding purchase of all time in the light-car field.

car—ride in it—know the thrill of driving it easily and safely through thickest traffic or step it up to sixty and sixty-five on the open road, you cannot begin to appreciate the extent of the many mechanical improvements embodied in its construction.

It is difficult to believe that so much speed, power, beauty, quiet, comfort and safety can be had at such a low price. It would be impossible if this new car were made by anyone but Ford.

Only Ford could sell such a fine car at such a low price

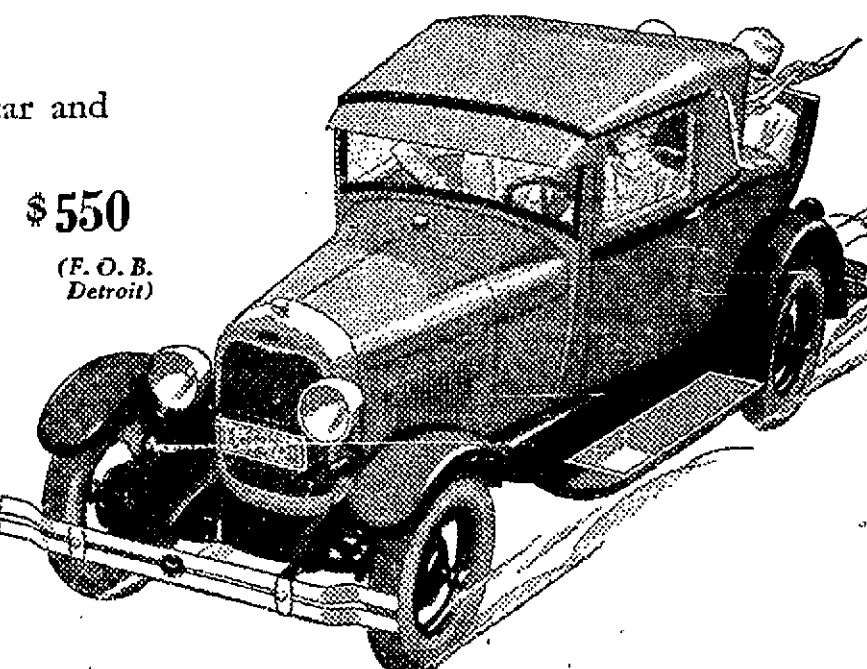

The low price of the new Ford car and its exceptional performance are the result of manufacturing practices and economies as unusual as the car itself. The new Ford is more than a new automobile. It is a new idea in modern, economical transportation.

By all means, take a little while today to learn about this new automobile. You will know that there is nothing quite like it anywhere in quality and price.

Out of the Past

Happenings of Days Gone by as Chronicled in The Star and Sentinel and The Gettysburg Times, the Files Reveal.

ONE HUNDRED YEARS AGO

Married.—On Thursday last, by the Rev. L. L. Hirsch, Adam Weikel, to Miss Maria Meel, both of Huntington township, Adams county.

On the same day, by the same, Thomas Blocher, of Lebanon, to Miss Maria Hartzell, of Franklin township, Adams county.

On Tuesday evening, the 4th inst., by the Rev. D. M. McConaughy, John Sadler, Jr., to Miss Sibby L. Stewart, daughter of David Stewart, both of Menallen township.

Died.—On Tuesday morning, the 27th inst., Mrs. Sarah Smith, of this borough, in the 86th year of her age.

On Sunday evening last, Jacob McClellan, of Millers Town, aged 98 years.

Communicated.—Died, on Thursday, November 22, at his residence in Petersburg (York Springs), in the 33d year of his age, Thompson T. Bonner, Esq., member elect of the legislature of Pennsylvania from this county. On the following day his remains were conveyed to the grove, accompanied by his corps of infantry under the command of Colonel Miller, who in their military costume with an unusually large concourse of acquaintances and friends paid the last solemn honors to their late companion and respected fellow citizen. Mr. Bonner possessed a mind highly cultivated, and ornamented with qualities of a superior order; all the energies of which, as a legislator, he was disposed should bear in their practical results on the best interests of his fellow citizens. We sympathize with his youthful partner and his aged parents, in a bereavement so severe, and a loss so irreparable.

The "Petersburg Invincibles" have passed a resolution to wear crepe on the left arm for the space of thirty days, in token of respect for the memory of their deceased captain.

The American System.—A large and respectable meeting of the friends of the "American System" was held at the court house in Gettysburg, on Tuesday, the 27th November.

Isaac Wierman, Esq., was called to the chair and R. G. Harper appointed secretary.

The object of the meeting having been explained by the secretary, reading a communication from the secretary of the "Pennsylvania Society for the Promotion of Agriculture and Domestic Manufacturers", it was on motion of George Smyser, Esq.,

Resolved, That a committee of three persons be appointed to draft a memorial and resolutions, to be laid before an adjourned meeting, to be held on the 29th November, at 1 o'clock p. m.

Samuel Sloan, Esq., S. S. King, Esq., and J. B. McPherson were appointed the committee.

(Adv.) Cooking Stoves.—M. C. Clarkson has just received from Mr. Hughes' furnace a number of cooking stoves, finished complete. The advantage of those stoves is the great saving of wood, not requiring more than one-half the quantity that is necessary for an open fire.

The Rev. B. Kurtz, of Hagerstown, who has been traveling through Europe, soliciting subscriptions for the Lutheran theological seminary, in this place, arrived in Baltimore on the 27th ult.

SEVENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

Married.—On the 22d ult. at Coffee-wago chapel, by the Rev. Mr. Enders, Anthony Sheets and Miss Julia Kump, both of this county.

On the 25th ult. by the Rev. J. Seehler, Peter Greenholt and Miss Selma Wintrobe, both of Germany township.

On the 25th ult. by the Rev. J. Ulrich, David P. Layew and Miss Sarah J. Pittendorf, both of this county.

On the 6th ult., by the Rev. Dr. Weeks, Jacob Gould and Miss Sarah Jones, both of this county.

On the 8th ult. by the Rev. L. Gerhart, Daniel Ehrhart and Miss Mary Ann Lauch, both of this county.

On the 2d inst., by the Rev. E. McCollum, John Carl and Miss Mary Elizabeth Hossler, both of this county.

On Tuesday evening last, some 40 or 50 of our citizens partook of a magnificent supper prepared especially for the occasion by Mr. Tate of the "Eagle Hotel". Everything passed off in fine style, with no difference of opinion as to the taste, skill and liberality with which the affair had been gotten up.

The Railroad Again.—We understand that propositions have recently been made in regard to the contemplated railroad between this place and Hanover, so favorable as to have re-awakened the friends of the enterprise to the importance of another decided effort towards the accomplishment of the end so much desired by our people, and so essential to the future prosperity of our county. Yesterday an informal meeting was held in this place, at which arrangements were made to open a correspondence with a competent engineer and secure authentic data preparatory to a general movement in favor of the enterprise. The feeling seems to be of the right stamp at present as indicated by the liberal offers in the way of subscriptions that have been made, and we have no doubt the project can be successfully carried through by a politic and energetic movement. Whatever is done now should be done with due care and discrimination, that failure may be put altogether out of question.

The Webster Obsequies in Boston.—The funeral ceremonies in honor of the late Daniel Webster took place on Tuesday last, in Boston, and constituted the most splendid and imposing pageant ever witnessed in that city. Business was entirely suspended and almost all the public and private buildings throughout the line of the procession and elsewhere were draped in mourning. All the public offices, were closed and decorated with festoons of crepe. The hotels, newspaper offices, etc., were also gorgeously decorated with appropriate emblems of grief. Flags were everywhere suspended at half mast and minute guns fired. Vast numbers of strangers were in attendance from all quarters, amounting to the aggregate of probably 40,000 persons. The legislature of New Hampshire, by special invitation, were present. The Hon. George S. Hilliard pronounced a most chaste and eloquent eulogy upon the life virtues and public services of the deceased.

AT THE STATIONS

I watch them at the stations come and go,
Brave men and women and the sad of eye.

All journeying somewhere as they hurry by.

A few there are who bear the signs of woe,

Many the stains of travel plainly show;

The pleasure seekers laugh and drown the sigh

Of the sad pilgrims—and I wonder why

They wander and what moves them so.

I know what prompts me toward an outbound train

I think I know the pangs of those who roam,

Always are people wandering again,

Always are people gladly turning home.

Oh, restless life, I think, which bids us all

To hurry somewhere at the train-man's call.

Dog Hill Paragraphs

By GEORGE BINGHAM

The mule our fellow townsman, Yam Sims, drives may be getting old, but his teeth are still good, or he couldn't have gnawed the sassafras hitching post in two, while having nothing else to do when hitched to it in front of the home of the Calf Ribs Widow last Sunday afternoon.

Just about the time we imagined the grass hopper season had subsided, Miss Peachie Sims raises the alarm that one got after her this morning.

Jefferson Potlocks finds he has a good many pumpkins in his patch. Some are big while the others are little, and he guesses the little ones are for the children.

LIMITATION

AN INTERESTING article about what was termed "the average man" was recently published in a popular magazine.

I read that article and felt repaid, but when I had finished reading it I had no desire to be "the average man!" Not that I am any better than such a man, but that I would not be satisfied to remain in that unexalted state.

For myself I want no limitations placed upon me. I may never attain a position above the average man, but I do not want that knowledge to get to the boss sitting around somewhere in my brain!

Life's greatest glory rests in the fact that there is no limit to which a human being may not aspire. His is a life of privilege. His is the belief that all men are created equal before the God of Opportunity, like runners at the tape, ready to spring at the crack of the pistol. All cannot win, but all may start—and hope to win.

No man ever knows his limitations. Only the coward thinks he knows. He grows most who reaches furthest. Not until we are extended by the efforts of a determined will, fired by an unquenchable imagination, are we able to measure the possibilities of our lives.

The masters in this world are a collection of those who tried—and won, many little dreaming that they would ever attain the heights they have. The restless, dreaming, courageous mind has to be fed. It wasn't meant to rust and fall into broken bits.

Washington's monument in Washington never seems quite so tall and big as it does after you have climbed the steps from its base to its top. Yet, from a distance, the task doesn't look any too difficult.

From a distance, the stupendous job doesn't look so very difficult. That is why great tasks are attempted—and achieved. Before you realize it, you are at the top!

Life's greatest glory rests in the fact that there is no limit to which a human being may not aspire. His is a life of privilege. His is the belief that all men are created equal before the God of Opportunity, like runners at the tape, ready to spring at the crack of the pistol. All cannot win, but all may start—and hope to win.

No man ever knows his limitations. Only the coward thinks he knows. He grows most who reaches furthest. Not until we are extended by the efforts of a determined will, fired by an unquenchable imagination, are we able to measure the possibilities of our lives.

The masters in this world are a collection of those who tried—and won, many little dreaming that they would ever attain the heights they have.

The restless, dreaming, courageous mind hys to be fed. It wasn't meant to rust and fall into broken bits.

Washington's monument in Washington never seems quite so tall and big as it does after you have climbed the steps from its base to its top. Yet, from a distance, the task doesn't look any too difficult.

From a distance, the stupendous job doesn't look so very difficult. That is why great tasks are attempted—and achieved. Before you realize it, you are at the top!

BEWARE THE COUGH OR COLD THAT HANGS ON

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Cromulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Cromulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Cromulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Cromulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for bulging in the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

STOP BAD BREATH

People afflicted with bad breath find quick relief through Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The pleasant, sugar-coated tablets are taken for bad breath by all who know them.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets act gently but firmly on the bowels and liver, stimulating them to natural action, clearing the blood and gently purifying the entire system. They do that which dangerous calomel does without any of the bad after effects.

Olive Tablets bring no griping, pain or any disagreeable effects.

Dr. F. M. Edwards discovered the formula after 20 years of practice among patients afflicted with bowel and liver complaint, with the attendant bad breath.

Olive Tablets are purely a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil; you will know them by their olive color. Take nightly for a week and note the effect. 15c, 30c, 60c. All Druggists.

"Political News & Views"—

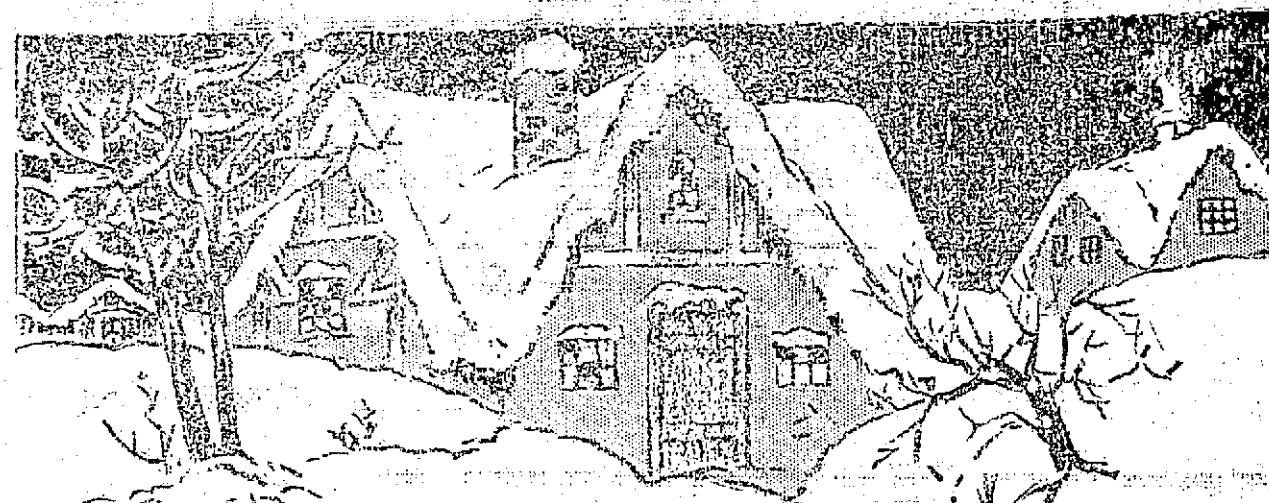

Mr. Editor:

Why not dilute your dope in this column?

Tell 'em who it was that got the commissioners together on their appointments for clerk and other office seekers when Hershey and Schwartz were at loggerheads? Also, who it was that helped to place Mr. Cole in the saddle as leader of the organization? This kind of "political influence" don't amount to much in some people's estimation, eh? What was the intention of me running alone with both old parties fighting against me? And please tell me, did I run bad at that? I did not try to buy my way to be elected, did I? Nor did I haul my voters to the polls! The voters that stuck by me did it as voters should do it—the no interference plan. And please don't forget Mr. Editor, that Dr. E. D. Christmas club checks are out, Christmas merchandise is on display and now with the coming of colder weather the Christmas spirit is in the air.

Shop Early And In The Morning

Just after the store opens its doors for the day's activities is the ideal time to shop. And these are the days when much of the Christmas shopping can be done to advantage. So save the worry and flurry of the busy pre-Christmas shopping days. Again we say to our customers—"Shop Early"—Shop early in the season, early in the month, early in the week and early in the day. You'll be mighty glad that you shopped early, and you'll thank us for suggesting it, too.

Seventy Years of Growth and Service

As this sturdy old National Bank approaches its Seventieth (70) Birthday Anniversary it proudly, yet modestly, calls the attention of its many friends and increasing host of patrons to its growth from a small beginning, back in 1858, to its present resources exceeding TWO MILLION ($2,000,000.00) DOLLARS.

For seventy (70) years, through three great wars, through panics, through seventy years of intermingled adversity and prosperity, it has stood the test of time, it has merited its present high standing (ONE OF THE HONOR-ROLL BANKS IN THE UNITED STATES); it has not only grown, but it has faithfully served the legitimate interests, large and small, of this community.

Backed by its large resources and managed by a powerful group of able and successful men, this enviable record forms the basis upon which this bank seeks and merits your banking business whether large or small.

"Now, Bunnikins," said Donkey Long Ears, "I have told you all I know about donkeys. Yes, sir, I've racked my brains to help you win the prize at school. Now it is up to you to remember all I've told you. Do you think you can?"

"I guess so," answered the little rabbit. "I've jotted down many things in my memorandum book."

"You don't mean it," exclaimed Donkey Long Ears, as the little bunny pulled it out of his pocket.

"I've covered three pages," laughed the little rabbit.

"Well, I'm surprised and delighted," cried Donkey Long Ears. "You're a smart little Bunnikins."

"You see," went on the bunny boy, "every now and then, and sometimes often, I read over what I've written. By this time the contest is held I think I'll know it by heart."

"Don't doubt it in the least," answered Donkey Long Ears, looking with admiration at his small, furry friend. "You and I make a good pair; we're both long ears!"

"Ha, ha!" laughed the little rabbit. "Although you're much larger than I am, our ears are about the same length."

"How would you like to hear a story about a little donkey?" asked Donkey Long Ears.

"Very much," cried the little bunny.

"Well, once upon a time, not so very long ago," began the old, long eared fellow, "a little donkey lost his master. In some way or another he had become separated from him in the crowded market place. Along the winding, narrow streets the busy crowd jostled and pushed one another, the big farm wagons rattled over the rough stones, and the women and children crept close to the stalls, on which were displayed the goods and vegetables. In vain the little donkey lifted his head and turned his eyes here and there. But he could not see his master, not even the old blue cap that covered his head.

"Dear me," sighed the little animal. "My eyes are of no use to me. I will try my nose," and bending his head, he sniffed at the pavement, and then, lifting his head, he sniffed the air. Pretty soon he slowly made his way through the jostling crowd. On he kept, when, all of a sudden, he seemed to lose the familiar scent of his kind master.

"Now I must use my eyes," he thought. And, would you believe it? Just a few yards off, he saw his master's blue cap towering above the throng, for his master was a very tall man.

"With a happy bray, the little donkey trotted forward and pressed his nose against his master's coat."

"Well, well! Here's my little donkey," laughed the master. "He has found me just as my dog would have. He shall have a fine supper tonight when we get home."

"Is that the end?" asked the little rabbit, wistfully looking up at Donkey Long Ears.

"Yes, I haven't another idea in my old head," answered the old long eared animal. And away he trotted, leaving the little bunny to hop back to the dear Old Bramble Patch.
